

Australian Government
Department of Finance

Scan to explore the Microlearning Suite and discover practical resources designed to support procurement and contract management decisions when you need them most.

Resources available through the APS Academy website.

Commonwealth Procurement and Contract Management Microlearning Suite

The Microlearning Suite supports Australian Public Service (APS) officials to build practical procurement and contract management capability through short, targeted learning resources.

Designed to complement the broader Training Suite, the microlearning suite provides quick access to useful guidance, practical tips and expert insights that can be applied in day-to-day work.

Participant benefits

Practical support when you need it: Access short, focused resources that help you refresh your knowledge or address common procurement and contract management questions.

Flexible learning: Complete bite-sized learning activities in minutes, making it easier to build capability around busy work schedules.

Improved confidence: Strengthen your understanding of key procurement and contract management concepts so you can make more informed and accountable decisions.

Access to current and relevant topics: Engage with resources shaped by APS feedback and developed with subject matter experts to reflect real workforce needs.

Support for ongoing capability development: Use microlearning as part of your continuous learning, alongside formal training, Finance guidance and entity-specific advice.

Take a few minutes today to strengthen your capability