They have been translated into the 8 key languages used in APGF. Training and advice on how to adapt and implement policies at a national level is the next stage of this work. Parties are encouraged to set up democratic policy decision making systems at a national level to duplicate the regional model now operating. https://www.asiapacificgreens.org/template-policies <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 2. Regional Women's Network Gender Equity training A successful pilot training program was undertaken in India in 2019. A Gender Equity two day training workshop is to be held in Nepal in March 2021 alongside a regional training of Gender Equity trainers from the Bangladesh, India, Nepal and Pakistan Green parties. This will be backed up by online training programs at national level for the above parties. 3. Women and Young Women's Mentoring program A mentoring program now in its third year for women from emerging parties to

	be mentored by more experienced women from the Australian Greens and other Green parties from across the globe will have an intake of 12 new pairs of women over the next year. Attention will be given to its application to training needs of women in non-OECD countries. https://www.asiapacificgreens.org/get/gender-equity-toolkit
Estimated cost (split into project and administrative expenses)	Total cost: 70,000 Project and coordination costs: $50,000 Administrative costs: $20,000

Assessment Criteria Project 1 Part 2

Criterion 1 - Why has the activity been chosen, why is it important and how does it fit within the objective and aims of the Program?

A detailed selection procedure for all Australian Greens APPDP proposals is undertaken. First through a call out to APGF party members for written concept proposals. These are peer reviewed by a panel from APGF parties who have not submitted proposals and the Australian Greens International Development Coordinator. Recommendations made to the Australian Greens International Development Committee for approval. Project teams comprising the recipient party or network, IDC members, the International Development Coordinator, and two other APGF representatives as part of an exchange and training experience develops a detailed operational proposal for approval by the IDC. Project teams meet monthly, hold a mid-term project review ,and then a final review of the project at its conclusion is submitted to the IDC for approval.

18 criteria are used to annually select the projects proposed including to abide by APPDP objectives and guidelines. Other key criteria include assisting the party in the lead up to local government, regional, or national elections or to significantly assist party development such as to assist in outreach for setting up of branches required for party registration. All of the above contribute to learning democratic practices and management procedures.

Since many of the parties in the region are new or emerging there is an increasing need for skill development. Skills will be enhanced through the experience of the Australian Greens members of parliament, staffers, and members as well as by newer APGF member parties working alongside more experienced Green Parties. Many parties as yet do not have a set of policies on which to outline their platforms ahead of and during election campaigns. This will be a development focus along with financial sustainability measures where parties understand methodology for financial stability.

Inclusivity of youth and women is a key priority for the region over the next two years. This project includes skill development, mentoring and coaching, as well as online resources to be used by all member parties in our region and also new and emerging parties across the globe.

Criterion 2 – What will the activity achieve and how will any outcomes (short and long term) be measured?

Newer parties will elect party executives and candidates, and stand candidates for election at local government, regional, and national level. Parties will have a better understanding of organisational procedures, registration requirements, policy and election platforms, and understanding of democratic procedures.

Parties will strengthen and initiate policies relevant to their own national elections and set up democratic systems to do so. Framework policies developed in 2019-20 now require implementation at national level. Policy training initiatives will be undertaken working with the newly formed APGF policy committee. Party take up of the policies will be measured. This is a cornerstone for parties to stand for elections.

Through project work with the APGF Women's Network training initiatives we aim to assist with the increased representation of women within the APGF parties in executives and as candidates at election - often in countries where this is not the current practice. A new initiative of internet based trainings will commence for those from four intakes of women who are mentored by more senior representatives in APGF parties. On the APGF Council the representation of women is currently at 26%. The aim is for 50% and a number of Gender Equity measures have been undertaken to assist this. A number of trainees from the mentoring program now hold key roles in their own parties or in APGF for example the APGF Deputy Treasurer, India Greens party Secretary, and APGF Gender Equity Coordinator. It is envisaged this number will grow yearly.

A new intake of mentoring pairs will take place in both September and December 2020 as demand increases the program is to be expanded from one annual intake. Three online trainings will be delivered and a series of webinars relevant to standing for election and organisational skills. Each training and the overall program will be evaluated by participants and organising committees.

A national training in Nepal and then a regional Gender Equity training will be evaluated to determine future such initiatives and adaptations for national political situations. This is preceded by a half day training with men explaining these issues as part of inclusivity measures.

Surveys will be undertaken for the needs of women in non-OECD parties in relation to the next stage of development of the online Gender Equity toolkit. Its success will be measured once it is further updated online and its number of users.

All of the above initiatives will develop further sustainable links between the Australian Greens and other Greens parties in the Asia Pacific region. Parties will benefit from enhanced organising skills and inclusivity of both women and youth as parties further their democratic practices.

Activity Proposal 2 Part 1

Name of activity	Capacity building of the Asia-Pacific Greens Federation (APGF) and Secretariat October 2020 to June 2021
Outline of activity	The project will support the continued development of the APGF Secretariat which in turn supports all the development and international communications to all of the parties in the region. Objectives: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. To assist APGF member and emerging member parties through development of APGF systems, accountable processes, sponsorship and development initiatives. A number of APGF parties have become registered parties over the past two years such as the India Greens national party, Jordanian Nature party, and the Green Party of the Solomon Islands. Initiatives on financial management and sustainability as well as policy development will be implemented. The Secretariat over the next year will commence work in the build up to the Global Greens Congress to be held in Seoul, South Korea in January 2022. The Congress is held once every four years and the next such Congress is in the APGF region. There are 103 Green parties who are members of the Global Greens. Strengthening of systems and deliverables of the APGF Secretariat will assist in the coordination of the Global Congress. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 2. To implement database management systems for APGF parties. Over the next year a program will be implemented for managing membership and databases as party memberships grow. This will also meet the national needs of data protection for the relevant parties and assist in communication strategies with party membership. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 3. To assist in future development of the APGF Secretariat, Women's and Youth Networks with representation from the 21 parties throughout the region (please see Activity 1 for full list of parties)

	To provide ongoing support for the Gender Equity program we will for the first time support a Gender Equity Coordinator to oversee and further develop this work in the lead up to a review in late 2021 of Gender Equity measures for the regional federation and all of the member parties. She will also develop a module on women standing as candidates as part of a “She Will Run” initiative. The Asia Pacific Greens Federation Women’s Network (APGFWN) is a network within the Federation. A handful of parties in the region have begun to implement a quota system for women in key roles/ the executive within the party often in countries where women are not usually encouraged to participate in politics.
Organisation to be benefited	All Asia Pacific Greens Federation member parties in non-OECD countries, associated working groups, regional women’s, and youth Networks. Green parties of Bangladesh, India, Iraq, Nepal, Pakistan, Solomon Islands for Gender Equity measures.
	Volunteer Office Bearers and Councillors are drawn from all member parties, who provide time throughout the year to participate in monthly online meetings to implement the agreed activities including giving input to the content of projects related to the broader development of APGF addressing issues such as membership and fundraising. They will also assist by actively participating in project teams to assist countries in organisational development. Australian Greens members, Members of state or federal parliament with suitable expertise and experience will provide mentoring, advice, and other assistance to APGF individuals and organisations responsible for implementing all activities. The Australian Greens have representation on the APGF Council with two elected members.
Estimated cost (split into project and administrative expenses)	Total cost $50,000 Project and coordination costs: $41,000 Administrative costs: $9,000

Assessment Criteria Project 2 Part 2

Criterion 1 - Why has the activity been chosen, why is it important and how does it fit within the objective and aims of the Program?

APGF as a Federation acts as an umbrella body, and as such provides capacity building to member parties. Supporting APGF magnifies the impact of the small amount of funding available to the program to be dispersed over 21 parties in the Asia Pacific and Middle East regions. Online Council meetings and women's network and youth network meetings are organised monthly. The Australian Greens have representation on the APGF Council with two elected members. The Secretariat assists with the associated training initiatives and logistics around this.

This project will help the development of a sustainable APGF Secretariat to increase the capacity of member parties and potential member parties and regional networks. This is more critical in the lead up to the organisation of the Global Greens Congress in the Asia Pacific in 14 months time. The Secretariat provides leadership, a communications network, develops training materials, and monitors organisational quality within the Federation. The Secretariat has been producing annual reports since 2018.

The formation of a membership database working group to instill accountability and systems learning is seen as a priority for many of the new and smaller parties within the federation. As parties have grown the previous systems used are now outdated and not meeting national or regional needs. Attention to data management, relevant national legislation, and attention to recruitment and information capture will be key learnings.

APGF has prioritised work inclusivity on gender issues and youth with the support given by the Australian Greens. Appointing a Gender Equity coordinator is seen as a key development and prioritisation to upskill women in key roles in the party and recruit new women. A three year review of the gender equity measures at the APGF Council level is due in the third quarter of 2021 with preparations well in advance. This is seen as an important step in implementation of such measures through all member parties.

Criterion 2 – What will the activity achieve and how will any outcomes (short and long term) be measured?

The activities will benefit the member parties at a stage of growth in membership for many parties. The implementation of database systems will be implemented in 2-3 key parties as pilot projects with the longer term goal of broadening this to all APGF parties. The APGF Secretariat, comprising Two Co-Convenors (one male and one identifying as female), Treasurer, Deputy Treasurer, General Secretary and Gender Equity Project Coordinator, from a range of APGF parties will also be familiarised with the system. A number of countries are also strengthening data protection measures and parties need to be up to date with new and current legislation.

This will improve services and communications with membership and good governance in implementing this service.

Appointing a Gender Equity project coordinator to the APGF executive and the work she is to undertake prioritises this work within the executive and consequently within the parties and Federation. The role will be monitored and assessed for future effectiveness. Implementation of program activities including the “She Will Run” program for standing women as candidates at all levels of government will be indicators of the project’s success. This will be a basis for recruitment of female candidates and young women as candidates across all parties.

All of the above will develop the capacity of APGF as the Asia Pacific Greens regional umbrella body through learnings and discussions between the parties. The participating Greens organisations will develop a stronger connection with other Green parties in the region to promote international cooperation. This project assists in the understanding of democratic processes and procedures.

Assessment Criteria Project 3 Part 2

Criterion 1 - Why has the activity been chosen, why is it important and how does it fit within the objective and aims of the Program?

This activity provides capacity building on project and campaign management through direct support and mentoring to key new and emerging Green parties in the region. Organisations that have not yet formalised their party status will be assisted to do so and to develop specific plans towards electoral campaign strategies at a local and/or national level.

This activity promotes program objectives by assisting new and emerging organisations to participate in the democratic processes within their own country. This will be done through assisting them to upskill in their party development, hold sub-regional meetings to build party branches, and to build membership. The consolidation of party structures and procedures. Women's, youth, and inclusivity initiatives are also integral.

Regular online meetings will be conducted by members of the Australian Greens International Development Committee (IDC) and APGF to gain a detailed understanding of democratic processes in key countries, to carry out needs' analyses, and project assessments. This also helps to evaluate the success and impact of funding projects.

A number of parties have party registration requirements across all districts and sub-districts in their country or in a number of states prior to registration by their Electoral Commission for the party to achieve registration. Building the membership base where this is a registration requirement including in remote areas is a key challenge. In some instances, this can be high per head of population and require substantial logistical planning in countries such as India, Indonesia, Solomon Islands, and Iraq.

All of the above activities greatly build capacity and participation in democratic practices.

Criterion 2 – What will the activity achieve and how will any outcomes (short and long term) be measured?

The key outcome in most cases will be the formalisation of party status, and the development and strengthening of party structures, procedures, and policies. This will be followed where possible by the parties standing candidates for election. In Iraq the national election is in June 2021. In Indonesia, India, and Solomon Islands parties will field candidates at local and regional government level in the next 1-2 years, building up to national elections.

Ongoing and formal communications and reports will be maintained with the organisations supported through project teams involving representatives of the projects, the Australian Greens, and APGF. The following specific activities will be undertaken:

Atjeh Green party - set up district committees in a further six districts to assist in registration process ahead of regional parliament elections in 2022, then national elections

Green party of Iraq - strengthening of women's network, preparing women to stand as candidates, 5 training initiatives

India Greens party - expand the party to membership in all 28 states through formation of elected committees. Begin to field candidates for election for the first time.

Solomon Islands - assist with recruitment of members including outreach to women members, strengthen party registration, mentor the party to stand in national and regional elections in two years.

The longer-term outcomes for the emerging Green party projects are stronger formal organisations that actively participate in elections and other democratic processes in the Asia, Pacific, and the Middle East. Projects have been selected in key parties across the diversity of the region.

All costs are kept to a minimum, basic economy including travel, shared accommodation or at times billeting so as more parties can be assisted, and activities undertaken and assessed.

Activity Details

It should be noted that the activities listed below are expressed in terms that imply the opening of Australia's international borders at some point in the 2020-21 financial year. In the absence of a reopening of the international borders, or until such time as that occurs, efforts will be made where practicable to carry out some programs remotely.

Activity 1

Democracy Building Program

Timing

The Activity operates from 1 July 2020 to 30 June 2021. The dates of specific activities within the 20-21 year will be determined in conjunction with our international partners, reflecting dates that are workable for them and that accommodate the dates fixed for election campaigns, Liberal Party conferences and other relevant events within Australia.

Countries and organisations to be assisted/visited

The countries and organisations to be supported through this activity will include a range of political parties from Papua New Guinea, Timor Leste, Fiji, Indonesia, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, India, Nepal, Maldives, Mongolia and Malaysia (and from other countries if opportunity arises). Other organisations we will work with will include the PNG Registrar of Political Parties, the International Republican Institute, the Konrad Adenauer Foundation and the Asia Pacific Democrat Union.

Expected Inputs

The financial input of APPDP funding will be used to cover all the financial costs, for staff time, travel costs, venue hire and any other costs needing to be incurred. In addition is the input of the time of the trainers who travel abroad to lead training programs when that time is provided voluntarily. Staff time will be utilised to provide all necessary planning and leadership needed for effective implementation of the programs under this Activity. This will include all necessary liaison with the parties and organisations involved in the programs, including the organisations listed in the previous paragraph and also federal and state electoral commissions and various Liberal Party units at federal and state level. Training in overseas countries, observation of election campaigning and Liberal Party conferences in Australia and the organising of a campaign seminar for the Asia Pacific Democrat Union will be among the programs to be organised by the Liberal Party.

Estimated Costs

The amount budgeted for the Activity is $475,000 (comprising $325,000 for program implementation and travel and $150,000 for administrative costs that are program-related).

Assessment Criteria

The various programs to be implemented under this Activity will meet the APPDP aims by providing training and other experiences that equip the representatives of democratic parties with improved skills for carrying out the various functions of their party, improving in particular their skills in electoral campaigning by participation in seminars and observation of election campaigns in Australia. The skills development training and observation will also extend to the communication of parties and MPs with constituents and communities and the organisation of significant party conferences. The Liberal Party will participate in the observation of elections in other countries as opportunity arises where international observers can provide scrutiny for democratic processes.

The benefit of the Activity will be seen in the enhancing of the skills of participating parties in their political and electoral work, and in the level of participation in our programs that they wish to sustain. Feedback from individual participants and their parties will assist in our assessment of the worth of particular programs and provide guidance for future program planning and development.

Activity 2

International Party Relationships

Timing

The Activity operates from 1 July 2020 to 30 June 2021. The dates of specific activities within the 20-21 year will be determined in conjunction with our international partners, reflecting dates that are convenient for both them and the Liberal Party, accommodating overseas and Liberal Party conference dates and the timing of elections abroad and other relevant events both overseas and within Australia.

Countries and organisations to be assisted/visited

The organisations and parties to be visited may include, but will not be limited to:

International Democrat Union
International Young Democrat Union
International Women Democrat Union
Asia Pacific Democrat Union
Konrad Adenauer Foundation
International Republican Institute
UK Conservative Party
New Zealand National Party
US Republican Party
Conservative Party of Canada

Expected Inputs

The financial input of APPDP funding will be used to cover all the financial costs, for staff time, travel costs, venue hire and any other cost needing to be incurred. In addition is the input of the time of Liberal party officebearers and members who travel abroad representing the Liberal Party at events covered by the Activity when that time is provided voluntarily. Staff time will be utilised to provide all necessary planning and leadership needed for effective implementation of the programs under this Activity. This will include all necessary liaison with the parties and organisations involved in the programs.

Estimated Costs

The amount budgeted for the Activity is $425,000 (comprising $300,000 for program implementation and travel and $125,000 for administrative costs that are program-related).

Assessment Criteria

The various programs to be implemented under this Activity will meet the APPDP aims by supporting international cooperation between democratic parties and the sharing of information on party processes and operations. The Liberal Party has a substantial level of involvement in the international organisations of centre-right parties, in particular the International Democrat Union and the organisations linked with that. The exchanges extend to interchanges of information in the key area of election campaigning.

The benefits for the Liberal Party come in the continued operation of these international organisations and also in increased understanding for the Liberal Party of current campaigning and organisational development in like-minded parties. Opportunities are also taken to interact with the democracy foundations linked with our sister parties, which can assist in enhancing the way programs under Activity 1 operate.

Administration

Estimated Costs

Supplementary to Activities 1 and 2, provision is made for a budget of $100,000 for the general administration necessary for sustaining the programs under Activities 1 and 2. This will include staff costs that cannot be separately attributed to programs under the Activities and will also include subscriptions to the International Democrat Union and related international organisations. It will also include necessary audit and bank fees.
